Reel Them In

My focus for this brief was to create an alternative movie poster for the 2020 film, "Parasite" by Bong Joon-Ho. To accompany this poster I also created an abundance of development pieces and thumbnail ideas to support my visual understanding of the movie.

Film Fanatic

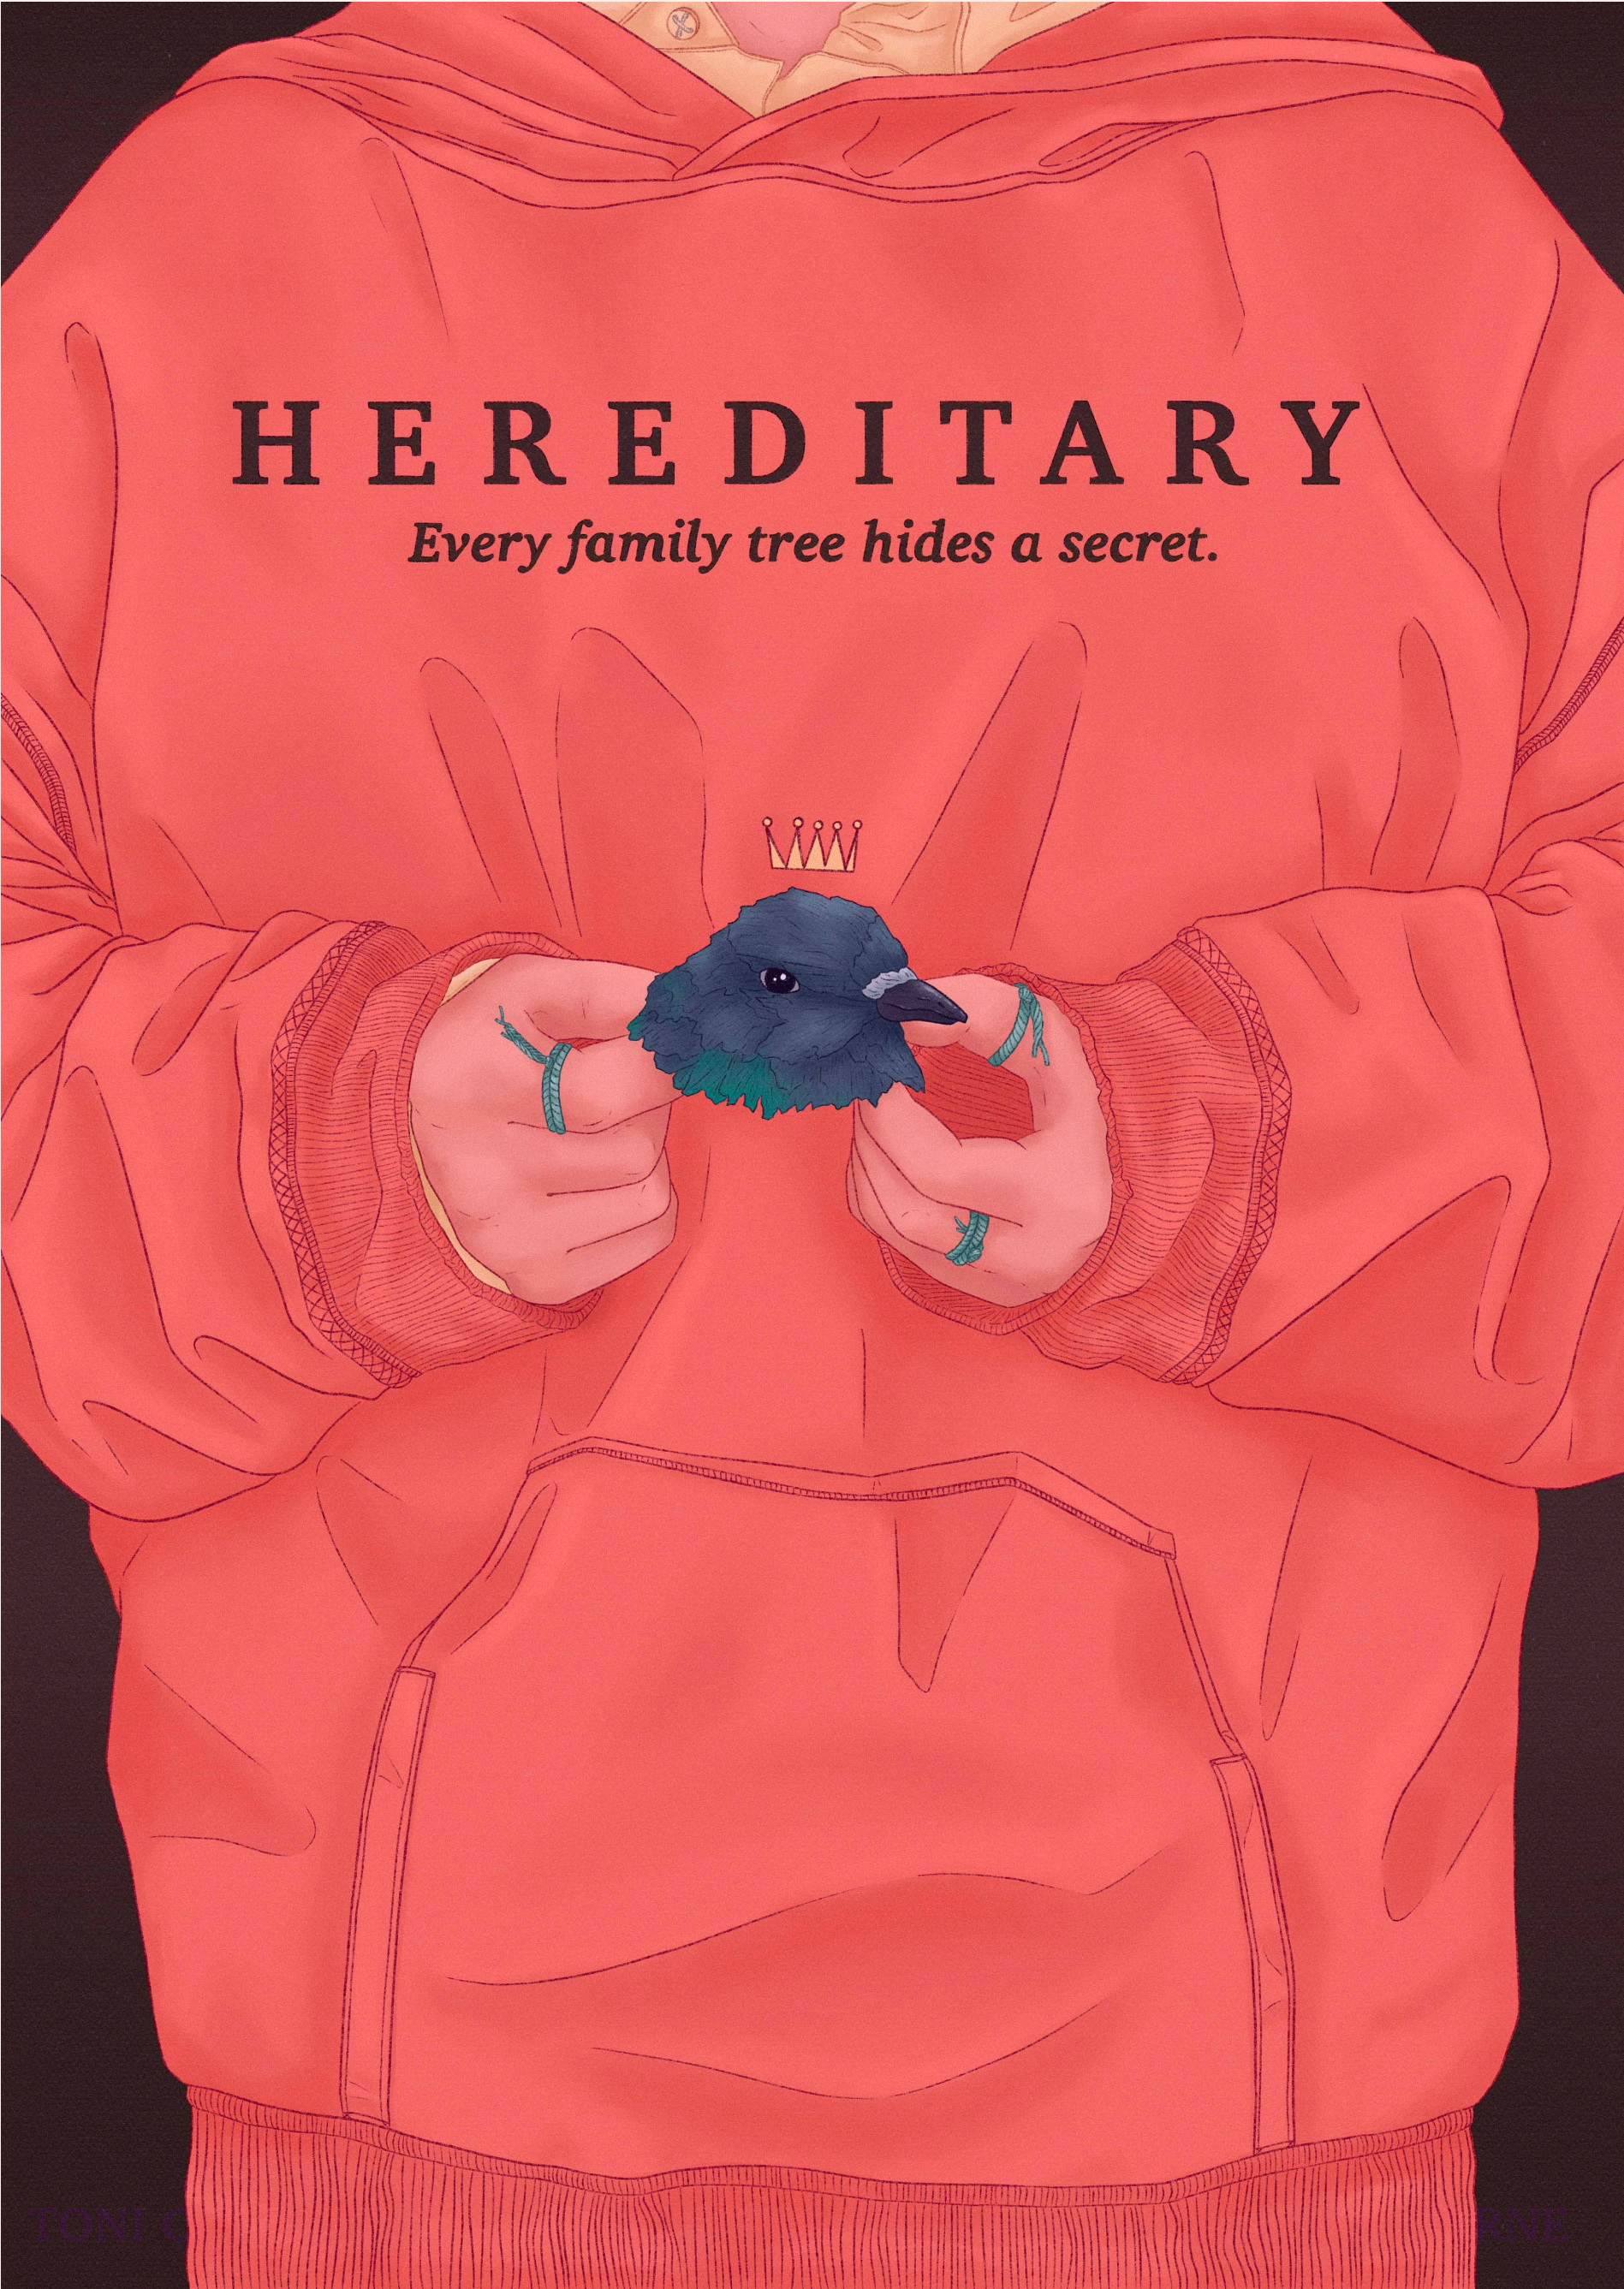

For this film focused brief, I decided to continue creating alternative movie posters, after its previous success, but with more of a context focus on movies people loved throughout lockdown. For my first poster design, chose to create a poster for the 2018 Ari Aster film, “Hereditary”.

For my final alternative movie poster, I decided to focus on a film I personally loved throughout lockdown, the 2016 film, "Arrival".

Musical Characterisation

For this character design focused-brief, I decided to create characters for a story I wrote based on the song, "Sweet Disposition" by The Temper Trap. The idea being its story and its accompanying characters could be used for an animated music video, which were prevalent throughout lockdown.

A Picture is Worth A Thousand Words

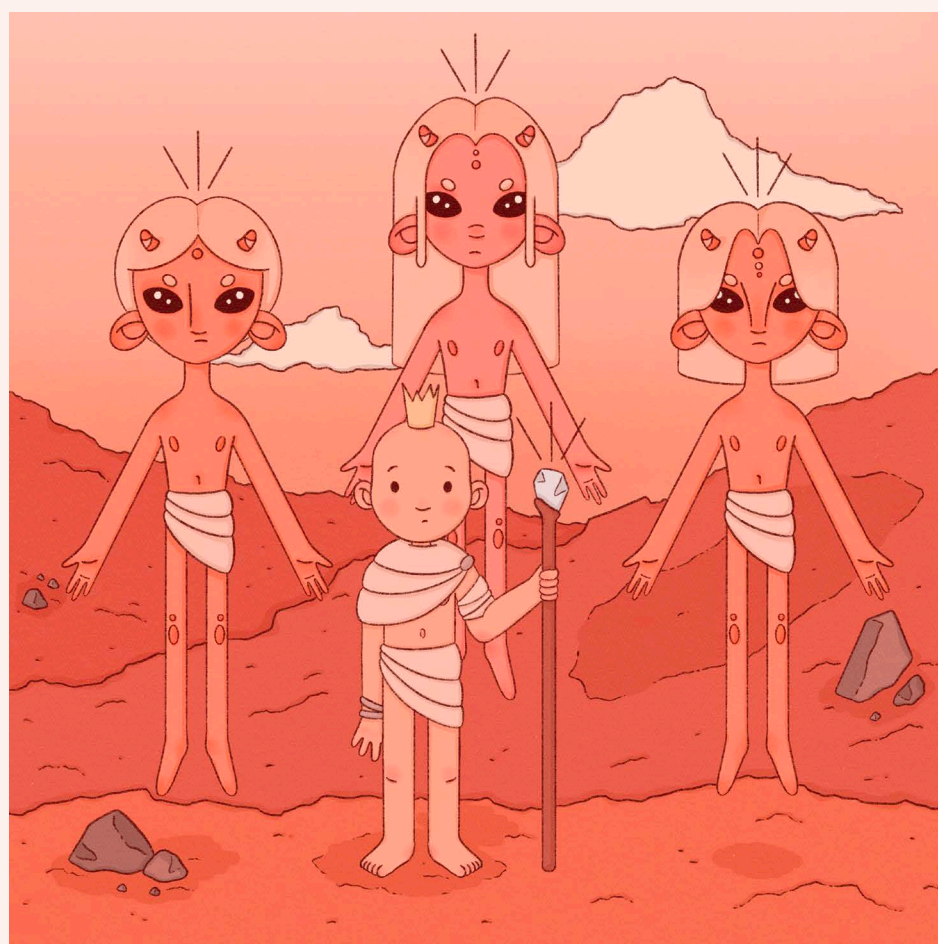

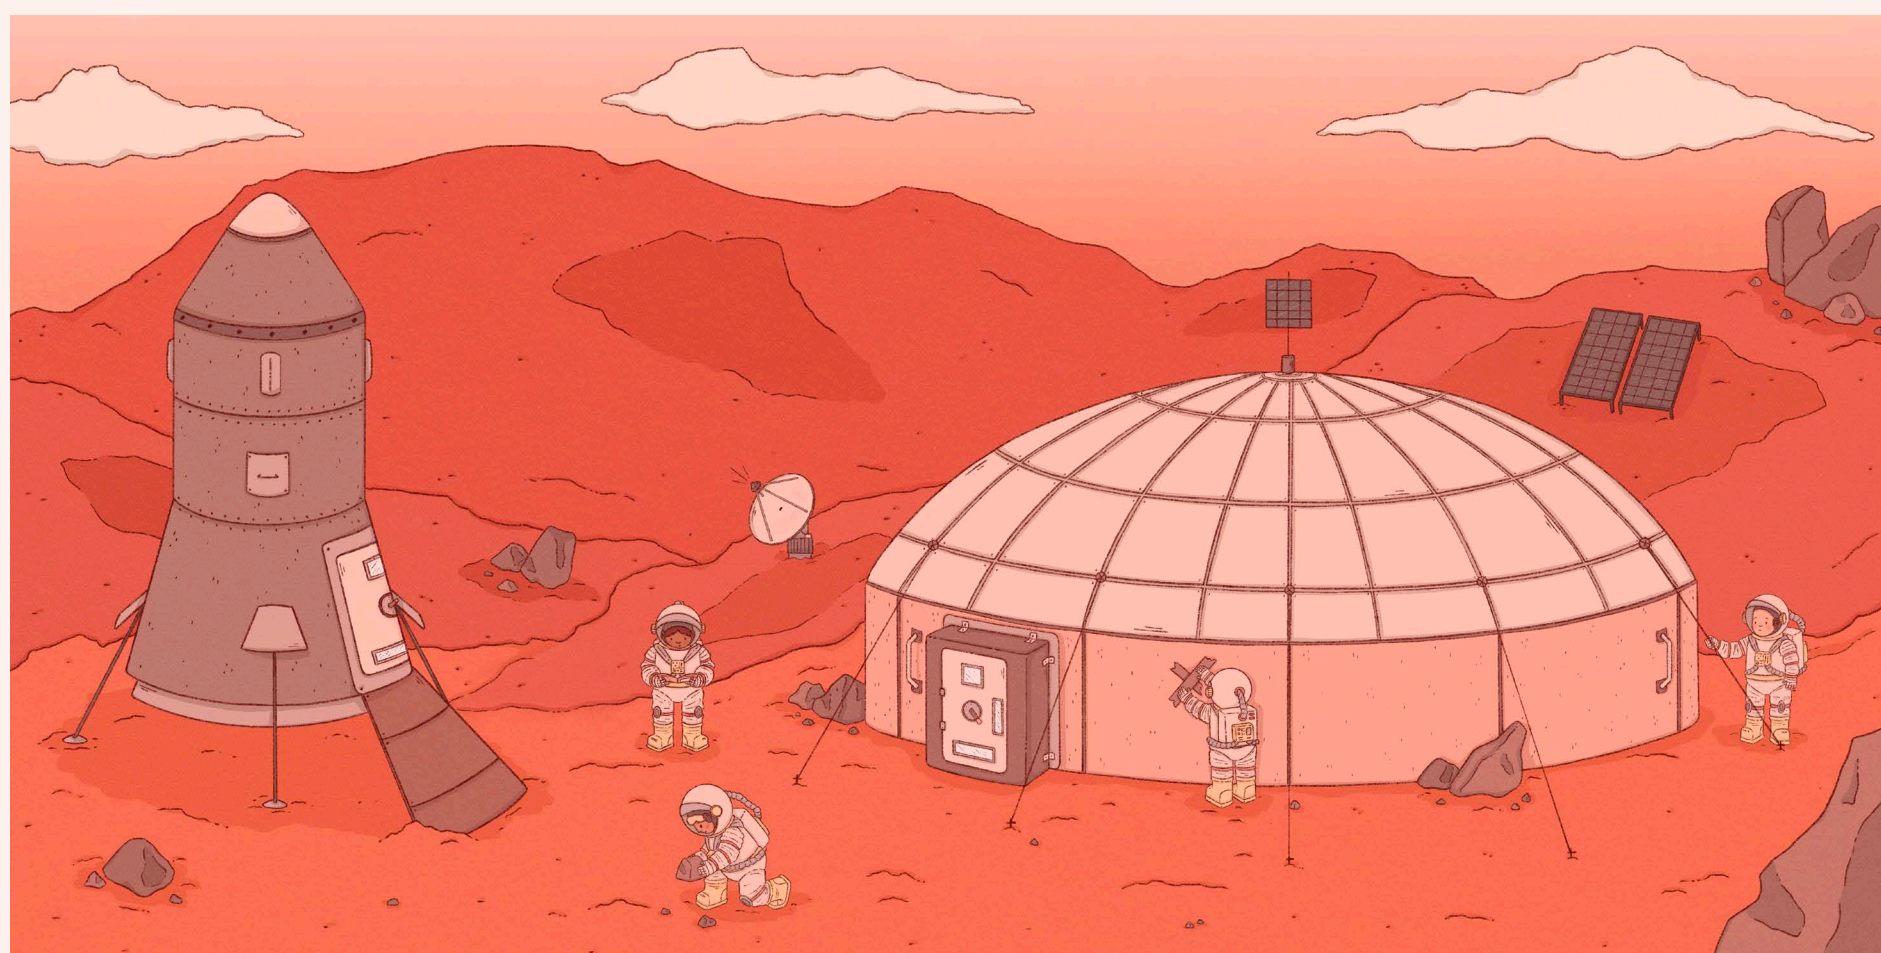

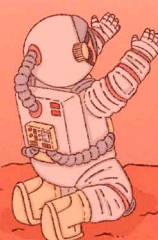

For this project, I chose to create a silent picture book roughly based on the story of the 2015 film, “The Martian”. The book is aimed at all ages and people, but particularly individuals who love colourful and engaging narrative illustrations!

Mini Briefs

I have thoroughly enjoyed experimenting and having fun with my practice through partaking in mini briefs. These are briefs that I aim to complete within two days and challenge myself to try new things. Some of my favourite outcomes from these projects are; my Miriam Margolyes eating sushi illustration, my valentines day card design, my mini-comic, and my wobbly warped portraits.
